Education for health professionals who work with parents in the perinatal period, including:
- midwives
- nurses
- child health nurses
- obstetricians
- general practitioners
- mental health professionals.

We aim to increase awareness and understanding of birth-related trauma and its impact on women and families.

We provide evidence-based strategies for prevention, identification, and management.

